

AMATEURSKÉ RADIO /THE AMATEUR RADIO/
VOL II No.3. March 1953

ADDITIONAL FREQUENCIES FOR THE CZECH HAMS

The official announcement on page 49 of this issue noted the allotment of new additional frequencies for the Czechoslovak amateurs:

1. Waveband 28-29.7 Mc/s was opened for the work of collective stations
2. U.H.F. band between 85.5 Mc/s - 87 Mc/s was allotted as of March 1, 1953 for the use of all Czechoslovak amateurs

Technical articles in this issue:

" Quick heat " soldering iron

Practical design of HI/FI amplifier

Universal Volt-Ampere and Ohm-meter

Modern Electronic Bug

Radiolocation transmitters (this was a translation of an article by N. Sabeckij from the Soviet radio magazine "The Radio".)

Basic circuits of TV receivers

Stabilization of UHF transmitters

Propagation predictions